Foreword

No draw bridges, no knights in shining armor, yet this is a castle—"The Castle on the Hill". It was here that we, the class of 1948, like so many classes before us, have lived, learned, and loved as we passed through the most delightful period of growing up—high school days. Block ball on the corner, just beating the 9:00 bell, blasting Poly and rooting for the eleven—fragments of the memories we will some day hold dear.

Now we gripe, smile, and leave with half a tear. Some day all the gripes will vanish and only our pride for our school will remain. If in 1968 you can page through this book and recognize a face or recall an incident, mention it to your son. We the staff of THE GREEN BAG 1948 have him in mind as we attempt to capture our fleeting memories with this, our year book.

Dedication

When the mid-Seniors left City College last February, along with them in the exodus was one man—tall, grey-haired, friendly and congenial.

This man, Dr. Philip H. Edwards, had been the principal of "The Castle on the Hill" for the past sixteen years, and when he left the students bade farewell to their "Mr. Chips".

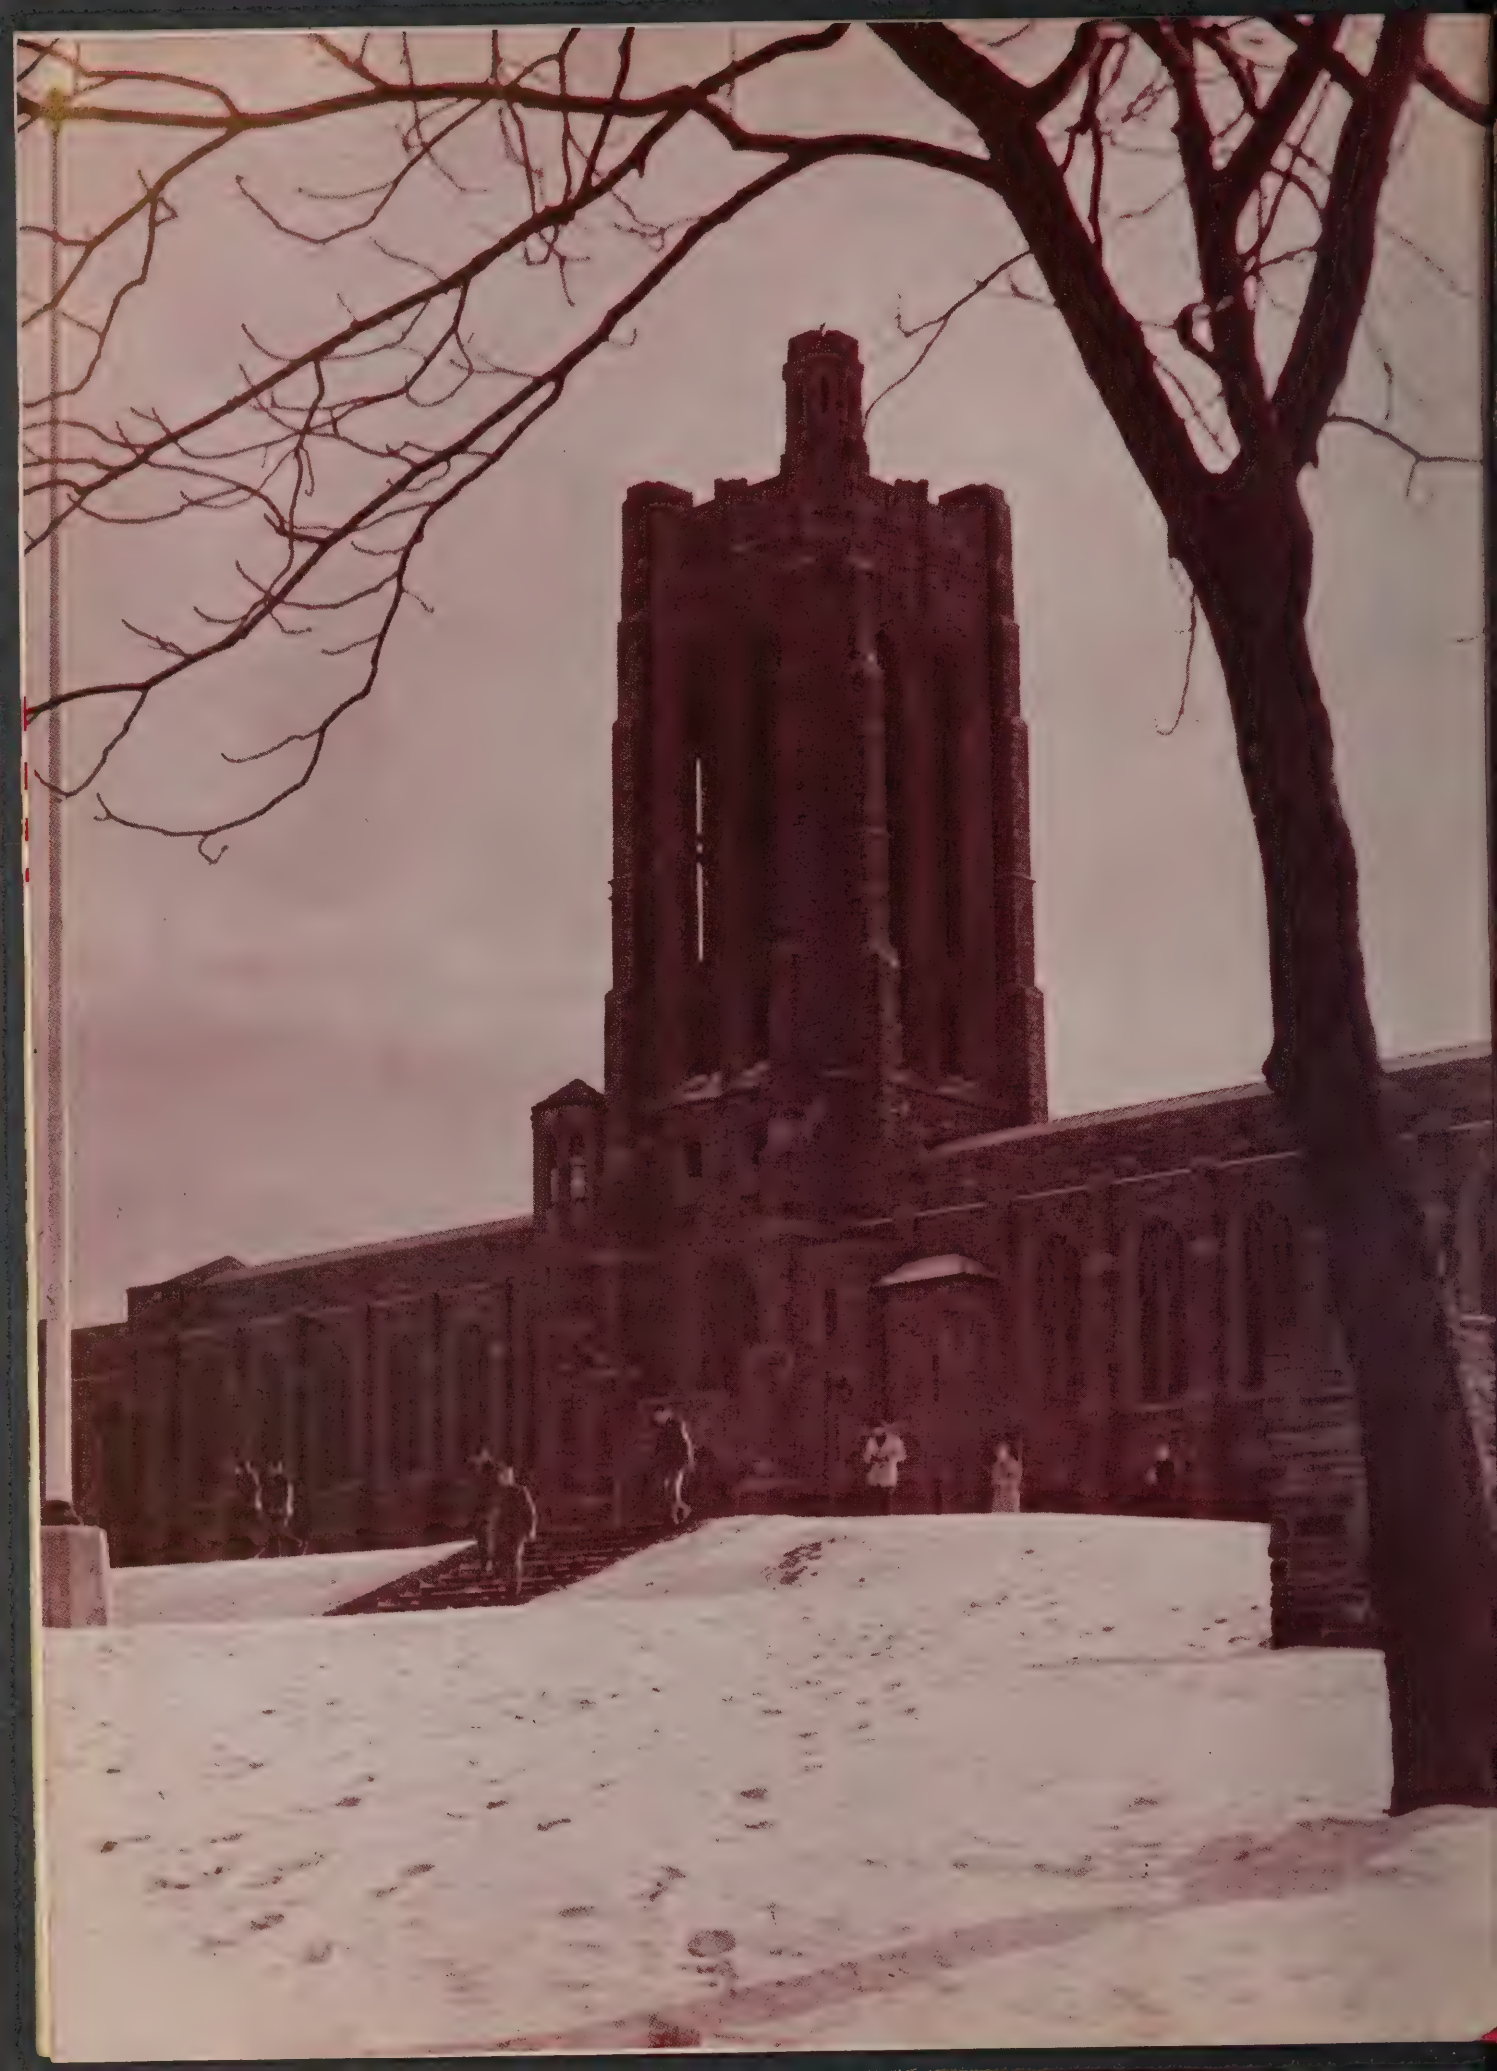

Since service has been the outstanding contribution of this man, it is also fitting that the services of two other men gain a place in the dedication of THE GREEN BAG 1948. Professor Philip L. Robb and Professor Walter R. Gale for over forty years offered outstanding service to BCC as instructors and leaders of young men.

Service has built City College. It is to the spirit of this service that we fondly dedicate our book.

City's "Big Three"

History was in the making on the afternoon of February 5 for the alumni, student body, faculty, and all others who were, or had been, in any way connected with the Baltimore City College. For it was on this afternoon that the Baltimore School Board gathered to select a replacement for Dr. Philip H. Edwards, loved, respected, and admired principal of BCC since 1932. Their decision was an important one. Its result, a good one. Their final selection placed Dr. Chester H. Katenkamp, former principal of Patterson Park High School, in the commanding position at "The Castle on the Hill." Remaining to aid City's new top man in his future endeavours were Prof. Henry T. Yost and Prof. Carl E. W. Schmehl. Both, thoroughly familiar with the personality of the students they had dealt with for so long, were worthy and necessary for their positions.

Each of these men had one interesting experience in common. Each was a graduate of BCC. And so, the three BCC students of yesterday now combine to form City's "Big Three" of today.

Carrollton-Wight Literary Society

Founded in 1878 by Prof. Charles Wight, the Carrollton-Wight Literary Society has been developing public speakers and debaters for seventy years.

In an effort to revitalize interest in public speaking, the organization undertook a number of new projects. Schoolwide declamation contests were held, quizzes were conducted, and pamphlets dealing with the value of public speaking and the society's history were distributed.

For the first time at a school assembly, the Carrollton-Wight debated with Douglass High. Although defeated by a slim two-to-one margin, the debate was a great success. Benson Offit, Charles Moylan, and Bernard Paris represented the society in this debate. Offit, Paris, and Robert McDivitt comprised the team which tied the Bancroft later in the year.

Bancroft Literary Association

The ideal of the Bancroft Literary Association can best be expressed by its slogan, "Speech is Power."

Meeting once a week with their adviser, Prof. Joseph E. Green of the Department of English, the Bancroft's members enjoyed a series of informal debates and extemporaneous speeches. The oldest organization in City College as well as in the Southern States, the Bancroft sponsored schoolwide declamation contests along with its wide range of activities.

The association's main project each year is its annual debate with the Carrollton-Wight Literary Society. Arguing the negative side of the topic, "Resolved, That the American Press is Free", Carey Moore, Julian Goldberg, and Harold Gullan capably held down the positions on the Bancroft team. After many anxious moments, the well-prepared contest ended in a tie decision.

Organized in its present form in 1937, the Student Advisory Council is a representative body of the students, whose primary function is to carry out student projects and to make necessary suggestions to the faculty.

Members of the SAC journeyed to Polytechnic prior to the annual City-Poly football game and drew up a peace pact with the Techmen. A farewell assembly to Dr. Philip H. Edwards, retired principal, was also sponsored by the council.

This year's officers were Harold Gullan, president; Thomas Swanson chairman of the Executive Board; Harry Wilson, vice-president; and Benson Offit, secretary. Profs. Oscar Helm and David Kaufman, both members of the Department of Vocational and Educational Guidance, advised the group.

Board of Publications

Standing: Harry Wilson, Charles Moylan, William Evans, Bernard Clements, Isadore Abrams, Benson Offit, Donald Salganik. Seated: Profs. James C. Leonhart, C. Brant Meloy, Walter N. Linthicum, Joseph E. Green.

Composed of the principal editors and advisers, the Board of Publications has much to do with the fate of BCC journalism.

Although only a few meetings are conducted throughout the school year, the function of this Board is an important one. It is the Board's responsibility to regulate financial expenditures and approve editorial material.

The Baltimore City College Chapter of the Quill and Scroll Honor Society directs its efforts toward the continued improvement of the school's publications.

Throughout the year the organization elects to membership those students who make outstanding contributions to either the editorial, art, or business staffs of campus publications.

Quill and Scroll

Band

One of the best high school bands in the East offered the musical color for the football games and school assemblies at BCC this year. Under the direction of Prof. Donald Norton, the music makers practiced long hours and sacrificed much of their time to reach the high standards traditional of the Alamedan campus.

The consistent excellence of the Band won the praises of the faculty and student body. Although they never played a hit parade tune, the Collegian instrumentalists were tops on the campus hit parade.

Glee Club

Although the City College Glee Club meets behind double thick doors, its activities are not secret.

Under the direction of Mrs. Blanche F. Bowlsbey of the Department of Music, the Glee Club has been in operation for the past ten years. Its accomplishments are widely known as this local organization has appeared in concerts not only at BCC, but in all parts of Baltimore.

In addition to its own schedule of activities, the Glee Club members are outstanding contributors to the casts of the school operettas.

Drum and Bugle Corps

Ever since Mrs. Blanche F. Bowlsbey, chairman of the Department of Music, came to BCC 13 years ago, the Drum and Bugle Corps has been active.

Consisting of the three units of the drummers, buglers, and flutists, the Corps represents the school in the musical department before, and at half-time, at all of the football games.

Considered by many the best in Baltimore, the members of the Corps put in endless hours of diligent work throughout the school year.

Orchestra

The BCC orchestra, playing its tunes of light and classical music, has produced music that has charms to soothe the savage Collegian.

Under the direction of Professor Donald Norton of the Department of Music, the Orchestra added another year of worthy achievement to its traditionally outstanding history. This versatile and talented group provided the musical atmosphere for the PTA meetings, the annual operetta and play, the commencement, and all other school activities.

Chess Club

The Chess Club presents to its members an opportunity to learn the fundamentals of the game or to develop techniques toward its mastery.

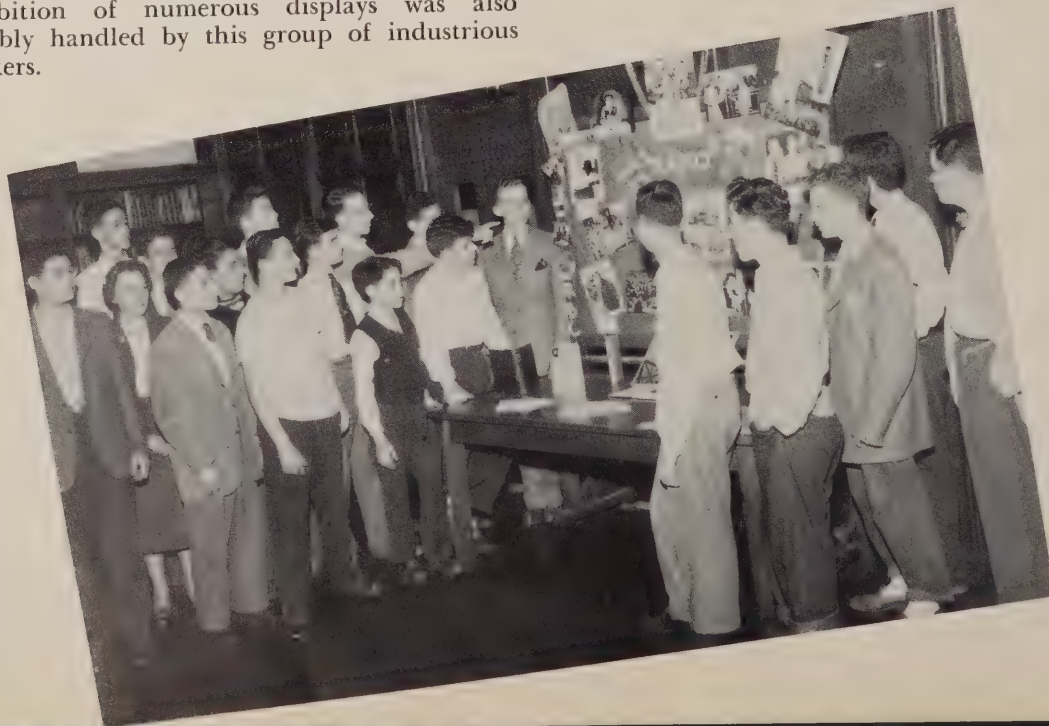

At their weekly meetings, the members discuss the finer points of the game in addition to holding intra-club matches. The club also has meets with other schools, and in the past season they have emerged triumphant over Poly, Forest Park, and the Navy Plebes.

Herman Schulman, president; Robert Fowler, vice-president; Louis Groenheim, secretary; and Irvin Fink, treasurer, were the club officers this season.

Library Staff

Custodians over one of the finest book collections in the city of Baltimore, the BCC library staff has maintained the fine condition and perfect order of the school library. The exhibition of numerous displays was also capably handled by this group of industrious workers.

WILLIAM EDMONSTON
President

Stage Craft Club

Behind every performance staged in the Auditorium of Baltimore City College lies the activity of the Stage Craft Club, whose cooperation is vital to the success of any production.

Performing their duties in the dim obscurity of backstage, the members of this club are responsible for the provocative lighting effects for which City College presentations are famous. Their other duties include the accumulation of necessary material, working the sound effect devices, and taking care of the many unexpected odd jobs that a production entails.

One of the club's major projects this year has been the painting with aluminum paint a portion of the rear wall of the stage so that it may be used as a motion picture screen.

Radio Broadcasting Club

Isadore Abrams, Howard Siegel, Howard Lehman, Prof. Bernard Gorban, Irvin Pollack, Lynn Goldberg, Stanley Felsenberg, Stanley Kruger, Marvin Pristoop.

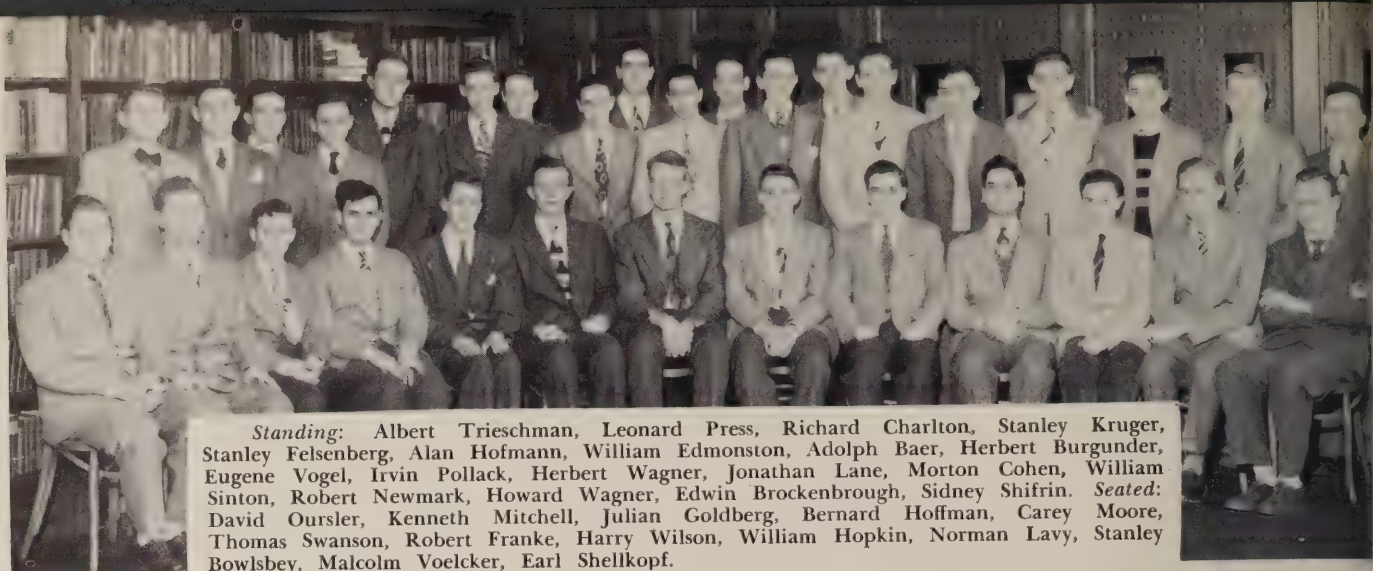

In its second year of existence, the Radio Broadcasting Club became one of the most active organizations of City College. Starting the year with a scant five members, the club, under the able leadership of Irvin Pollack, Howard Siegel, and Stanley Kruger, inaugurated an extensive membership drive. As a number of large scale projects were undertaken, the membership reached twenty-five.

In April the organization sponsored a tour of WBAL's television studio where the members were shown the technical aspects of a full scale television studio and instructed in various phases of telecasting. With the cooperation of WCBM, the club also sponsored a series of radio programs late in the year, climaxed by a play featuring the origin of Flag Day.

IRVIN POLLACK

Honor Society

The Baltimore City College Chapter of the National Honor Society was organized by Dr. Philip H. Edwards, retired Principal, in 1927.

Based on scholarship, leadership, character, and service, the society requires its members to have a scholastic average of 80 per cent for the third and fourth high school years and also be active in extra-curricular activities.

The first term officers were Thomas Swanson, president; Robert Franke, vice-president; and Carey Moore, secretary-treasurer. Carey Moore was elected president, Julian Goldberg, vice-president, and David Oursler was chosen secretary-treasurer at the start of the second school semester.

THOMAS SWANSON

Hi-Y Club

The aim of the Hi-Y Club, founded in 1920, is to create, maintain, and extend, throughout the school and the community, high standards of Christian character.

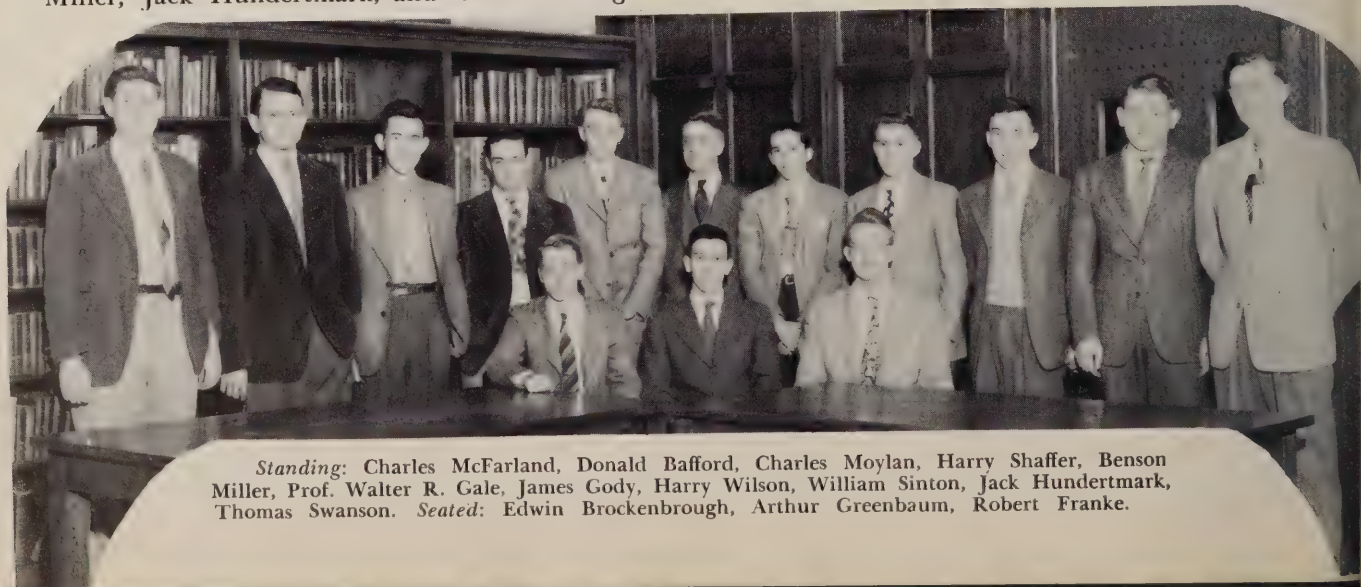

Led by Arthur Greenbaum, president, and Robert Franke, vice-president, the club presented an inspiring assembly early in February. The group revived an old Hi-Y tradition, the reception for the football team.

The club sponsored the Fourth Annual Winter Dance and was also an active participant in the Twenty-fifth Annual Older Boys' Conference, held in Delaware. The Hi-Y representatives from City also attended the "Youth and Government" meeting in Annapolis.

Other officers of the club were Edwin Brockenbrough, Benson Miller, Jack Hundertmark, and Glen Kessling.

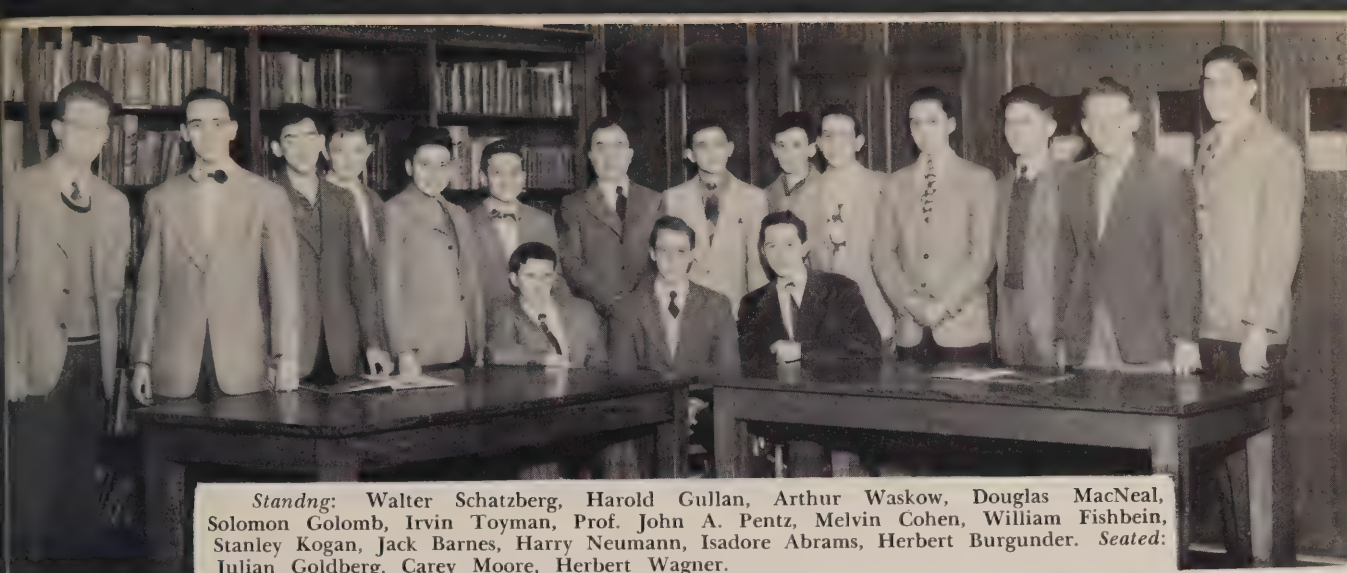

ARTHUR GREENBAUM
President

Current Events Club

With its main purpose being to familiarize its members with important happenings in the world today, the Current Events Club engages in discussions and debates at their weekly meetings.

Guest speakers are also on the agenda for the year, and the address by Mr. H. L. Mencken, noted Baltimore author, was one that was enjoyed by all.

Professor John A. Pentz of the Department of English was the club's faculty adviser. The officers consisted of Carey Moore, president; Herbert Wagner, vice-president; Douglas MacNeal, recording secretary; Roland Eppley, corresponding secretary; and Sigmund Pickus, treasurer.

United Nations

Dr. Philip H. Edwards founded the City College Chapter of the United Nations Youth Organization in February of 1947. Since that time the group has been active in educating themselves and other students in the purpose and aims of the United Nations.

This year's president was Eugene Sekulow and the vice-president of the City College Chapter, Harry Hogan, was also elected as president of the state-wide group.

In October, the club presented a panel discussion over the air featuring Hogan, Sekulow, Irvin Pollack, Charles Moylan, Hugo Deaton, and Robert McDivitt.

In May the group also presented a Junior Town Meeting of the Air on UNESCO. The club's adviser was Prof. Frank Fairbank.

Standing: Howard Lehman, Harold Gullan, Irvin Pollack, Anthony Day, Melvin Cohen. Seated: Isadore Abrams, Lynn Goldberg, Robert Newmark, Miss Vera Dorn, Eugene Sekulow, Prof. Frank Fairbank, Bernard Clements, Charles Moylan, Hugo Deaton.

Math Club

Not confining their eagerness to master the study of mathematics to the class room periods, an eager, earnest group of BCC students gathered twice a month with their adviser, Prof. James J. Allman of the Math Department, for further study in this tedious subject. This group comprised the City College Math Club.

Standing: Murray Rothaus, Solomon Golomb, Bob Newmark, Melvin Cohen, Adolph Baer, Howard Lehman, Edward Obstler, Eugene Vogel, Saul Goldberg. Seated: Julian Goldberg, Herbert Wagner, Prof. James J. Allman, Felix Cantor, Jack Barnes.

Although not many years old, this organization won for itself a sizable membership. The meetings featured asking, discussing, and proving the why's, wherefore's and who's which arise throughout the higher study of math. Climaxing a year of worthy achievement, the club members enjoyed a banquet near the end of the school year.

The officers of the club included Herbert Wagner, president; Felix Cantor, vice-president; Edward Obstler, secretary; and Julian Goldberg, program chairman.

French Club

Although it is little more than a year old, the French Club has already taken its place in the front ranks of City College organizations. Founded by a small group of boys who wanted to gain a better knowledge of the French language, the organization grew rapidly to the recognized position it holds today.

With its main objective being to achieve good expression in the French language, short scenes from books such as "Les Miserables" and "Les Trois Mousquetaires" are dramatized in the native language by club members.

The officers for the '47-'48 season consisted of Walter Schatzberg, president; Philip Goldberg, vice-president; Julian Goldberg, treasurer; and Herbert Wagner, secretary. The faculty adviser of the group was Mrs. Elizabeth Calvert of the Department of Modern Languages.

Standing: Lawrence Sheer, Jay Levy, Harry Neumann. Seated: Leonard Press, Julian Goldberg, Philip Goldberg, Mrs. Elizabeth Calvert, Walter Schatzberg, Irvin Fink, Albert Prostic, Herbert Wagner.

Press Club

The City College Press Club was founded in 1947 by Prof. James C. Leonhart of the Department of English and Rutledge E. Carter, the club's first president.

With its membership based on outstanding contribution to the editorial department of the campus publications, the enrollment of the club is very limited. The main activity of the organization has been the training of incoming students to write for the paper and year book, as well as learning the "ropes" of journalism.

Members of the club represented the school in journalism contests held throughout the country during the past school season.

The officers for the past year were Charles Moylan, president; William Evans, vice-president; Benson Offit, secretary; and Frank Askin, treasurer. Professor Leonhart continued to be the adviser of the organization.

Future Teachers of America

The Fleagle-Templeman Chapter of the FTA Club was organized in October of 1947 by Prof. James C. Leonhart of the Department of English. High School FTA groups are prevocational and exploratory. It is an active department of the National Educational Association, Washington, D.C.

During the year the club discussed the policies and programs of the Maryland Educational System.

Trips to the Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland were conducted in order for the club members to observe educational practices. A joint meeting was held by the City and Patterson High Chapters. These are the only two high school clubs in the city of Baltimore.

An FTA assembly was presented to the students of BCC in celebration of the birthday of Horace Mann early in May.

Arthur Greenbaum and Charles Christ shared the presidency of the club during the school year. Miss Vera Dorn, a member of the Department of Social Studies, was adviser.

Assemblies

Prominent speakers paid frequent visits to BCC with Theodore McKeldin, William Talmadge, editor of Scholastic magazine, and the Rev. Dr. G. Warfield Hobbs receiving top billing. For the first time in school history, one of our debating teams, the Carrollton-Wight, met a team from Douglass High. Although the home team lost by a margin of two-to-one, this was one of the highspots of the assembly schedule. The Carrollton-Wight-Bancroft debate was equally outstanding.

The June Senior farewell assembly, coming at the end of the school year, with its final goodbyes, was a fitting conclusion to a series of excellent assembly programs.

Let's go now—louder!

AUTUMN HOP

The mid-Seniors of '48 sponsored the Autumn Hop as the City College students polished up their rumba and conga steps for the first dance of the recent season.

VICTORY HOP

City beat Poly on Thanksgiving Day, and the Victory Dance that night celebrated a real victory. A record crowd stepped lively to the rhythm of Bill Maisel's Orchestra, while student president, Harold Gullan, pushed a peanut across the floor, much to the obvious delight of all concerned.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

Charitable organizations gained the proceeds of the SAC sponsored Christmas Dance. Even though the holidays were just around the corner, a large number of students managed to budget their gift expenditures to afford the price of a ticket that served as a contribution.

CHERRY HOP

Featuring the tunes of Bill Thorne and Company, the mid-Seniors of '49 sponsored the Cherry Hop. Promoted in cabaret style, the dance proved to be as successful as the earlier season presentations.

SWEETHEARTS BALL

The June Senior Class of '48 bid farewell to the BCC social whirl with the Sweetheart's Ball in early March. The selection of Nils Johnson and date, as the "Ideal Couple" was a fitting tribute to this ideal dance.

ANNIVERSARY DANCE

The Anniversary Dance, coming at the tail-end of the social season, was the last of a series of social successes. Celebrating the 20th birthday of "The Castle on the Hill", the dance came through with a near record setting attendance.

"Jacobowsky and the Colonel", winner of the Noted Critics Prize Play Award of 1944, proved to be successful during its two-night run in early January in the City College Auditorium.

Playing before delighted audiences both Friday and Saturday evenings, the production was not only rated near the top in the long line of City College plays, but was also a financial success for the sponsors of the play, the mid-Senior class of 1948.

The production was under the direction of Prof. John E. Desch of the Department of English; Prof. Harold E. Greenwald of the Department of Social Studies, was the business manager.

Jack Mendelsohn's portrayal of the refugee, Jacobowsky, was so authentic that we expected a visit from the immigration authorities. Howard Siegel as the Colonel offered an outstanding performance, while a lovely blonde visitor from Forest Park, Carroll Abramson, added the touch of variety so appreciated in an all-boys school.

Others in the cast included Larry Nachison as the tragic gentleman, Paul Pumpian as the Colonel's aide, Norman Hallam as the French chauffeur, and Myer Bronstein and Murray Kappelman as a Nazi lieutenant and Gestapo officer, respectively.

Eileen

As its 1948 production, the June Senior Class presented a sparkling performance of Victor Herbert's operetta, "Eileen."

Victor Herbert said that though his other operettas were written from his head, "Eileen" was taken from his heart. The packed houses seemed to catch Herbert's feeling in the City College performance and gave the show a tremendous ovation.

From a technical standpoint, "Eileen" showed the fine directing and hard working of the co-directors, Mrs. Blanche F. Bowlsbey and Mr. Clarence De Haven. Under their coaching, Joe Sopher, posseser of City's finest voice, thrilled the expectant audience with a dashing performance as Bary O'Day, an Irish revolutionist. Equally excellent was the singing of Francis Schlieder, a beautiful belle from Forest Park, who provided the romantic interest. Other key spots were held down by dancing Winnie Spencer and egg-smashing Al Miller.

For the first time, at a sizable saving for the school, the stage crew, under the direction of Mr. Arnold, designed and built their own sets, which were noted as tops for any high school production. The directors indicated their hope that the stage crew will help out again next year.

Both financially and theatrically this year's production. "Eileen," was tops in BCC entertainment.

Mid and June Senior

Carrying on the tradition of holding elections in order to name the outstanding members of the mid and June graduating classes, the staff of THE GREEN BAG 1948 sponsored the Super-Super Contests.

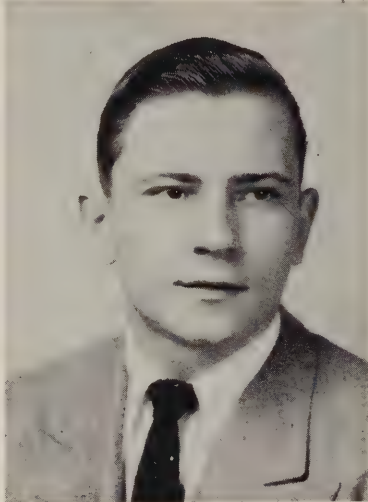

Popular, congenial Dave Hawkins, president of the mid-grads, was named by his class mates as the "personality kid" of their class. Joe Kelly, one of the finest ends ever to perform in a City College football uniform, as well as participating in wrestling and track, was elected best athlete by an overwhelming majority.

A fine competitor in football, swimming, basketball, and baseball, in addition to offering valuable contributions to the non-athletic life at BCC, Saul Barnett was voted the most versatile. Stan Pressman, a high academic student, SAC leader, and general all-around great guy was deemed most likely to succeed by the mid-graduates of '48. Dan Fader, who had his hands in just about everything throughout his stay at the "Castle", rounded out the select five when he was voted best politician.

Vic Gregory, leading humorist at BCC assemblies, came out a close victor in the best personality department for the June grads. Latest reports reveal that the talented performer is currently a high-paid entertainer at the Two O'Clock Club. Harold Gullan, well-liked student leader and one of the finest public speakers in BCC history, almost unanimously copped the best politician honor.

Don Bafford, All-Maryland selection in football and lacrosse, was far-and-away the best athlete the class had to offer. Chairman of the Executive Board and leader in the Honor Society and Glee Club, Tom Swanson was recognized as the boy most likely to succeed. Rounding out the "who's who" department of '48, Benson Offit, editor-in-chief of THE GREEN BAG 1948, officer of the class and SAC, and a Varsity tennis team performer, was honored by his classmates as being named most versatile.

FEBRUARY

Dr. Edwards's last diploma

Boasting such natural dance enthusiasts as Ed Pula, Dave Hawkins, Al Schultz, and Paul Richmond, the mid-Seniors of '48 climaxed their stay at BCC with a gala final week early in February.

The traditional Sports Dance started the "ball rolling", and with Carl Hamilton and Orchestra providing the music, the closed affair turned out to be a successful final week inaugural. February 6 was the date set for the Prom at the Emerson Ball Room. Bill Maisel and Company took the spotlight this time with a worthy effort.

The highspot of high school life, graduation, was staged in the BCC Auditorium on the 12th of the month. The exercises were keyed with the final appearance of Dr. Philip H. Edwards and the first appearance of Dr. Chester H. Katenkamp. Immediately following diploma activities, the class members assembled for the final time. The banquet was the occasion, and with good food, gorgeous women, and lively humor attaining the atmosphere, the class bid "adieu" to "The Castle on the Hill".

Week

High school graduates in action

Singing City praises

Climaxed by an absolutely free from cost Prom, the June Senior's final week stands as a challenge for graduating classes to come.

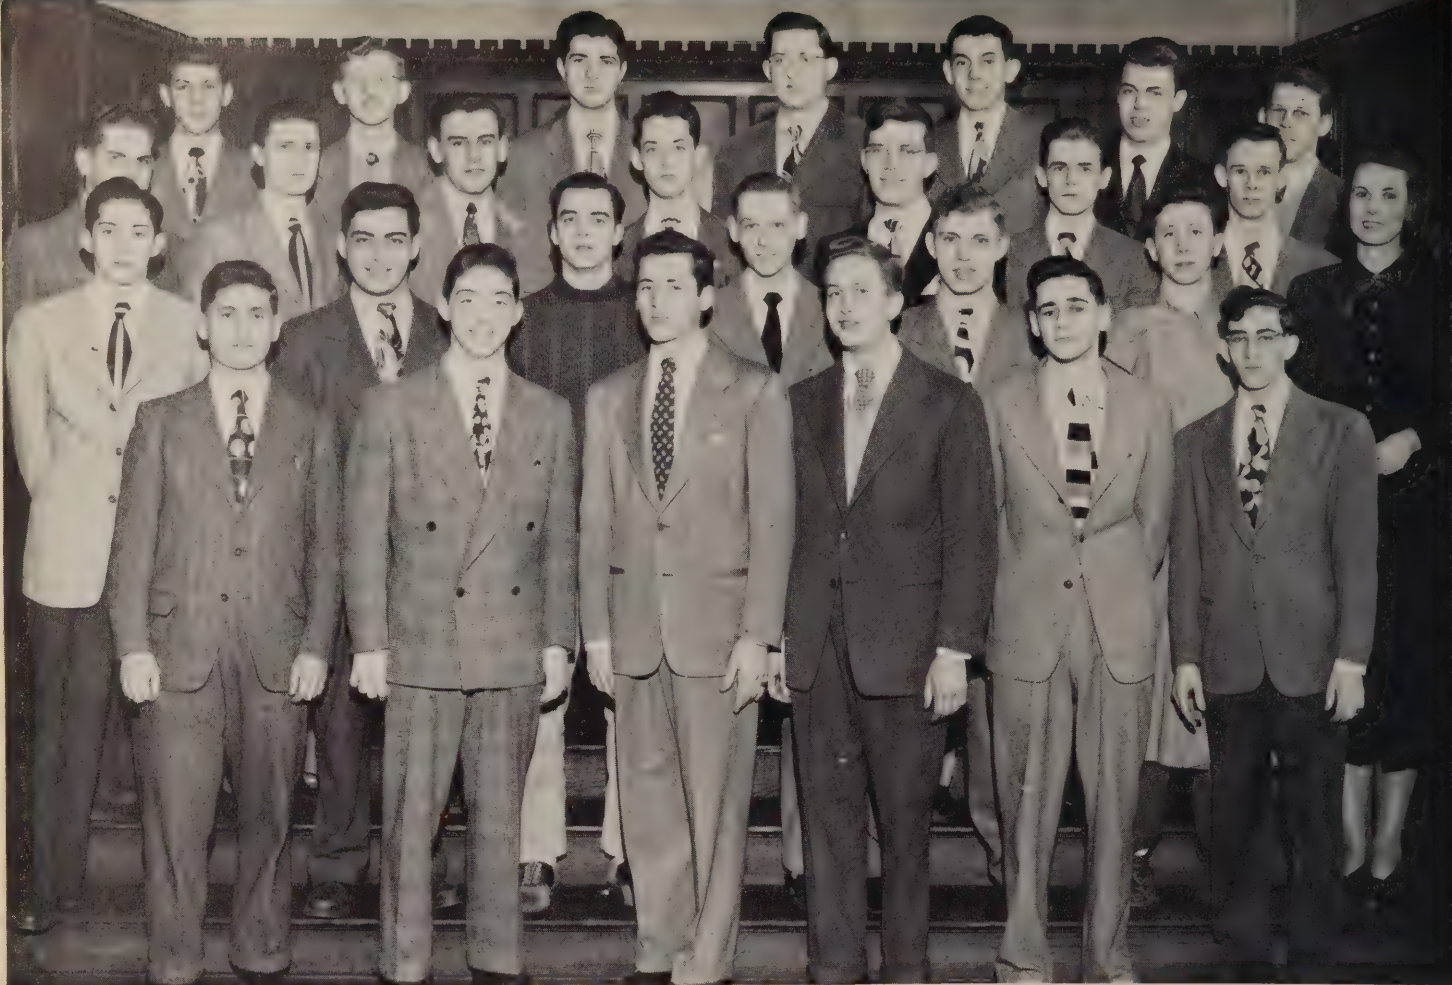

President Harry Wilson, along with George Abeshouse, Bunky Swerdloff, Herb Burgunder, Eugene Silberman, and a host of other "pep boys" assured the class of an excellent "Big Week" at a minimum cost.

The Moonlight and Sports Dance, even though being held on successive nights, were attended by a large number of graduates, underclassmen, and alumni. The free Prom, the first of its kind in BCC history, brought praises from all corners as Carl Hamilton and his Sociallaires topped off the occasion with ideal syncopating.

On graduation night, June 15, the graduates, parents, friends, and guests, put the Polytechnic Auditorium to good use. Tom Swanson, Len Press, and Bill Hopkin were the chief benefactors from the scholarship stand-point. The banquet, with Dr. Philip Robb being the guest of honor, was a fitting climax to June Week, '48.

Distributive Education Class of June 1948

A new door was opened at Baltimore City College in the spring of 1947, when a course in Retail Merchandising was introduced to the students by Mr. Forrest L. Lawton. The course, known as Distributive Education, is taught by the teacher-coordinator, Mrs. Roma S. Hodges, who also supervises the boys at the place of their employment.

Helping to make Sears & Roebuck multi-millionaires are "Mumbles" Gregory, "Scar-face" Quinn, "no nose" Clark, and "Trigger" Vieweg. "Daa Daa" Rubin is playing around in the Toy Department, and "Gabby" McCulloh is in the office of walnut, maplenut, and nuts of various pedigrees.

Four reasons why Hochschild retired from Hochschild, Kohn, & Co. are: Sherry Stein, who has been trying desperately to make a date with a certain cute mannequin; David "lost in the shuffle" Nachman; Pete "Bernie's Boy" Lebowitz; and Lenny—dear friend to the rich people who wear shoes—Stoler.

William Jensen is finally satisfied with selling records. It seems that the revolving motion goes well with his type of tea. Another William, with the last name of Krichinsky, has finally broken into the movies; he is "Head Man" at the Forest Theater.

At, pardon the expression, Stewart's, Al, play-boy and poker-face extra-ordinaire, Chicknoski is helping the little bums of Baltimore become well dressed. Nils "Sweetheart" Johnson is busy losing business for the men's department; while "Our Gal" Wagner is crippling young ladies with his shoes selling.

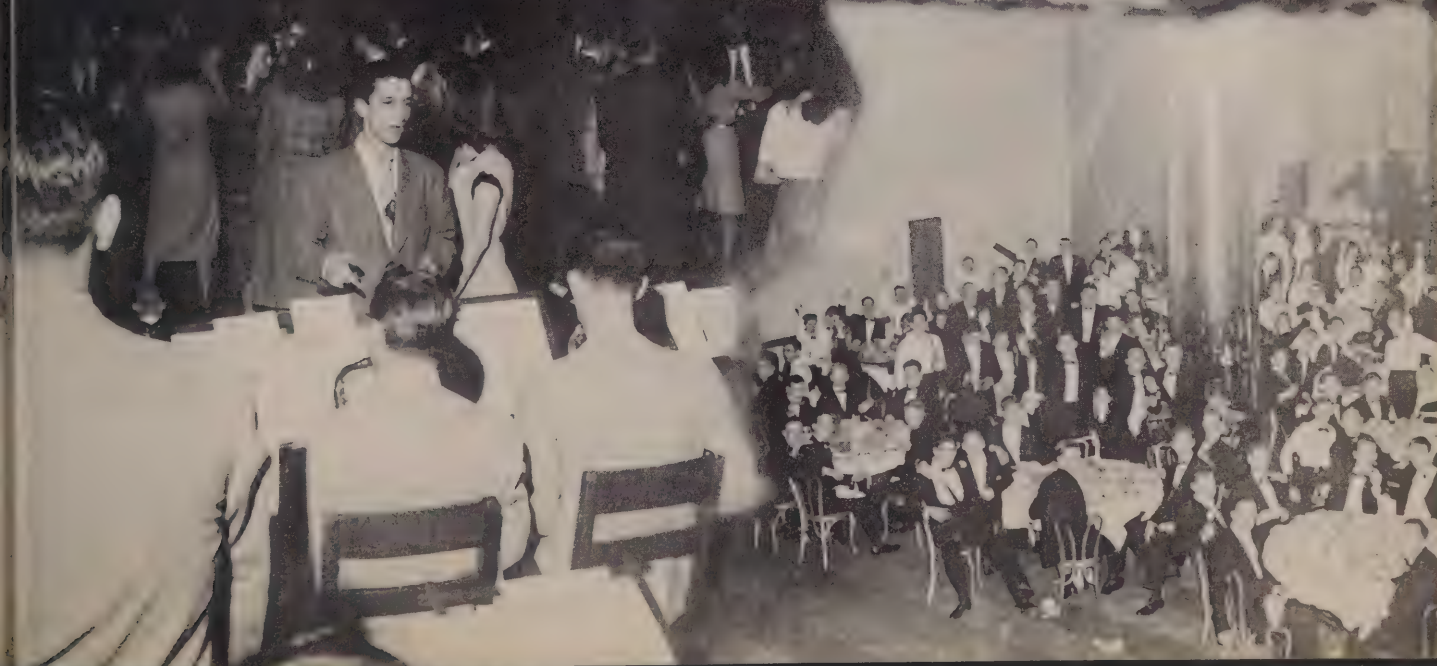

Helping make Baltimore a more beautiful place in which to live is Joe "Sniff-Sniff" McDonnell. "Tombstone" Miller is probably the only boy in the class who has never had a dissatisfied customer return. Norman Taubenfeld, by the way, is really "cleaning up" at Adler's. H2's answer to the Fuller Brush man is Phil Fleisher, a real estate man.

"Pretty Boy" Everett is trying to sell beauty equipment by posing for "Before and After Ads". "Before or After", which is it Everett? Stanford Cohan, retired from the Hub, is busy making a few nickels for the Danco Coin Machine Co.

Gordon Rowe is selling boys' clothing at the Hub, while Ed Dansberger is in men's furnishings. It is rumored that these boys are going steady with each other.

Gene Wileman and "Bobby-boy" Pomeroy are probably the only two sales-people at Julius Gutman's, where you can use your charge plate. And while this is being printed, Lenny Ashman has probably changed his job five times.

Mid-Senior Class of '48

The final class to graduate during the principalship of Dr. Philip H. Edwards, the mid-year class of 1948 was a fitting contribution to the climax of a successful era in BCC growth.

Although only 153 strong, the class more than made up for its small number by its long list of industrious workers. In the social line the work of Ed Pula, Al Schultz, and Paul Richmond will long be remembered by those who were in any way connected with the '47 Cherry Hop, Autumn Hop, and Victory Dance.

Class president Dave Hawkins headed the class throughout, and the financial as well as social gains testify to his capable leadership. Cal Ander took time off from pacing the Collegian tennis team to two consecutive titles to aid the group as class vice-president. The contributions offered by secretary Sidney Snyder, treasurer Paul Richmond, and sergeant-at-arms Harry Burkhardt were also highly responsible for the class's success.

On the field of athletics, class members Jim Athas, Joe Kelly, Saul Barnett, Ken Liddard, and Jerry Cooper were towers of strength on the gridiron. Larry Saiontz on the wrestling mats, Bill McKim on the lacrosse field, Morty Greenberg on the tennis courts, Irv Hofmann on the cinderpaths, Bill Ogden in the swimming pool, Hal Heyison on the basketball court, and Chuck Farnen on the soccer field were other outstanding Collegian athletes that bore the title of mid-graduate, 48.

Politician Danny Fader, Stan Pressman, Gene Krimski, Art Janofsky, Glover Rice, and "Dexter" Harvey Herskovitz made up some of the "gang", always jackpotting, laughing, enjoying their stay at City College.

This year's annual mid-Senior play, "Jacobowsky and the Colonel", found faculty manager Harold Greenwald and play director John E. Desch combining talents to give the class one of the best stage productions in BCC history.

Their series of social successes enabled the class to offer their June Week ticket cost at a minimum price. February 3 was graduation day and with Dr. Edwards conferring diplomas for the final time, the class bid "adieu" to the "Castle on the Hill", leaving behind them a job well done.

June Senior Class of '48

Traditional Report Offered By Class Secretary At Farewell Assembly

With the 1947-48 school year hardly underway the June Senior Class gathered to elect officers—to choose those boys who would lead them in their final year at “The Castle on the Hill”. The Otts Greenbaum-Harry Wilson presidential ticket payed off in a victory for Wilson by a substancial majority. It took three ballots to elect the class vice-president, but when the final tabulation came in it was quite evident that sincere, conscientious Benson Miller had won the vote of confidence of his class mates. Benson Offit was elected secretary while Herb Burgunder, Jr. was re-elected to take charge of the class's budget and expenditures as class treasurer. Gene Silberman was elected to round out the class officers in the capacity of sergeant-at-arms.

Jointly sponsored with the mid-year graduates, the Victory Hop was presented on Thanksgiving night as a large, enthusiastic crowd gathered to celebrate the afternoon 7-6 victory over Poly. Bob Franke, Ed Gallagher, Herb Burgunder, Ben Miller, and Gene Silberman headed a long list of energetic Seniors who were anxious to make the '47 Victory Hop the finest in BCC history. Many who were present at the dance felt that they had achieved this aim.

Climaxing their series of social successes, the Sweetheart's Ball was presented in late March. Another top-notch entertainment, the dance was climaxed as Nils Johnson and date were named the “Ideal Couple”. Don Webster, Alvin Schapiro, Gene Silberman, Otts Greenbaum, and President Wilson capably held down their various committee appointments.

Early last month the class sponsored their final school-wide project, the operetta production, “Eileen”. Playing before capacity crowds on both of the two-night run, the tireless efforts of Mrs. Bowlsbey and Mr. DeHaven payed off with top-notch performances. The man behind the scenes, class adviser Prof. McDonald, begged, encouraged, and finally succeeded in getting the entire school to back the production and the amazing financial gains testify to his expert executive ability.

The June Seniors of '48 now are anxiously awaiting their moonlight, sports dance, prom, graduation, and banquet. And so with June Week just around the corner, the Class of '48 departs from the “Castle on the Hill”—what is to come we know not, but we know that what has been was good.

Freshman Class

Eager to start their high school life at the earliest possible time, a group of 23 students entered BCC in early September to form the Freshman Class of 1948.

What this group lacked in quantity, it more than made up for through its love and spirit for "The Castle on the Hill."

Once adopted to their new environment, the class, under the capable supervision of Prof. John Burnett, settled down and anxiously looked around for things to do. They were instructed to elect a class president and Donald Duff won the necessary vote of confidence of his classmates to capture this top position.

Some of the more energetic "freshies" didn't wait long in deciding where to turn in the extra-curricular phase of activities. Murray Rubin decided to try his luck in The Collegian editorial office, and later in the year found time to join the Carrollton-Wight Literary Society and the United Nations Youth Group. Arnold Pollack journeyed several days after school hours to the BCC Auditorium, where he was eager to help out the Stage Craft Club. President Duff was not long in learning the "ropes" of student government and his contribution to the SAC was a valuable one.

Howard Bausum didn't join an extra-curricular activity all year, but his classmates were proud of him just the same. It was Howard that was the class "brain", and his willingness to help out his fellow student was admired by all.

When Duff was forced to transfer from City mid-way through the year, the class voted for Anthony Day to pace their future endeavours. And pace them he did. Whether it was at a school assembly, an SAC meeting, or just the weekly homeroom meeting, the class had voted into office an outstanding representative. Ralph Wilson then took over the office of class vice-president as well as continuing his membership in the Classical Club.

Like every class, the potential graduating class of 1951 had its share of just the friendly, congenial, all-around good fellows. Richard Baranger, John Davis, Lawrence Stinchcomb, Irving Schwartz, Allan Settler, Herman Lanzy, Morton Kirsh, Jerry Malin, Clifford Mink, Jay Rauh, Leonard Schneider, John Schroeder—it was these boys that constituted what is commonly known as the "gang". David Davis burned up the cinderpaths for the City jayvees while Mario Cardwell was a point getter on the swimming squad. Yes, the class was also well represented on the fields of athletics.

The Freshman Class leaves behind them a school year well spent. A year in which they learned to function as part of the student body of BCC. A year which will prove valuable to them in their future stay at "The Castle on the Hill."

Aw come on fellas, le'me alone!

Sophomore Class

The largest group at City College, the mid, June Sophomore Class of 1947 has already produced its share of outstanding scholars, athletes, scribes, and student leaders.

Although the class is not scheduled to organize until next fall, Roland Eppley has already shone forth both as an academic scholar of high standing and as a student leader in the SAC.

Douglass MacNeal led the sophomores in scholarship throughout the year, thrice topping the 98 mark, in addition to active participation in jayvee track, the Current Events Club, and the Bancroft Literary Association. Harry Croner, Charles Clark, and Howard Siegel were other outstanding sophomore leaders on the SAC.

The stellar journalism work of Jay Goldbloom, John Karukas, Arnold Cohen, Arthur Waskow, and Arnold Levins won for these boys high positions on next year's Collegian staff.

Even though a first year man, Willard Leech was not long in rising to fame on the fields of athletics. Equally at home, whether on the gridiron, the cinderpaths, or the hardwood floor, Leech's educated right toe accounted for the winning tally in the 59th City-Poly Thanksgiving Day encounter; his basketball ability won him a first string berth on the Varsity squad by the end of the season; and he nailed down a third place in the annual MSA track meet both in pole vaulting and high jump.

Other star sophomore performers were Mel Townsend on the track and cross country teams, Dick Eliasberg on the swimming squad, and Al Abramson and Stan Steinberg with Mr. Emenheiser's racqueteers.

Judging from their first year performance, it seems certain that the class of 1950 will be able not only to uphold, but to advance to even greater heights of glory and achievement, the torch of City College.

June Junior Class

"Slow start, strong finish" was the pattern followed by the June Junior Class of 1948.

Although it wasn't until late February that the class held its first official meeting, a fine record was turned in before the school year had terminated.

Elections held the spotlight as the class first became organized. Two ballots were needed to decide the important office of class president, but when the final ballot had been tabulated,

Jones added originality to the refreshment set-up when he secured priority on such items as hot dogs in addition to the usual soft drinks and potatoe chips. Headed by Zahn Belcher and Floretta Threadgild, a crew of hard-working lassies from Eastern volunteered to help attire the Gym in its party best for the evening. The financial and social gains secured serve as testimony to the fine team work the class produced.

it was clear the Angelo Santamaria had outlasted Charlie Moylan. Bob White was chosen vice president, with the post of secretary going to Al Tonnelson. Melvin Paul and Peter Kotsos were elected as the remaining office holders in the capacities of treasurer and sergeant-at-arms, respectively.

With less than two months remaining before their first big dance affair, the Anniversary Dance, the class swung into action. Bryan

The class also sponsored an assembly commemorating the anniversary of the school in June. Excellent handling, printed programs, and fine speeches went far in bringing the class further congratulations from the faculty and student body.

And so with another school year behind them, the June Junior Class now looks forward with eager anticipation to the '48-'49 season and their final at BCC.

Mid-Junior Class

From one prexy to another

It wasn't until late December that the Mid-Junior Class of 1947 had their first class meeting, but once organized the class turned in a year of worthy achievement.

President Sekulow thinks it over

Capable, energetic Eugene Sekulow gained the majority of votes over a group of outstanding candidates to be elected class president. Bill Tangeris captured the vice-presidency. Phil Karn, Ed Barker, and Jerry Laumann were elected to the offices of secretary, treasurer, and sergeant-at-arms, respectively.

With their first sponsored affair, the Cherry Hop, just six weeks off, President Sekulow set to work immediately to assure the class of a successful social inaugural. The efforts of dance chairman, Ralph Amernick, along with Lenny Farbman, Stan Felsenberg, Howie Borleis, Jim Burnette, George Daneker, and Stan Kruger were rewarded as the dance turned out to be a top-notch social performance. Promoted in cabaret style, with Bill Thorne and his Social-laires the main attraction, the dance topped all previous Cherry Hop endeavours in the important financial profit line. Tea dances with Eastern and Western High were also on the class's agenda.

When the torch, representing school seniority, was passed down from the June graduating class to President Sekulow, the traditional representing BCC were passed on to the worthy.

CITY—26 WILLIAM PENN—16

The Collegians journeyed to York, Pennsylvania, to meet an old rival, William Penn High, to inaugurate their 1947 season. It was mainly through a strong first half, which saw the score end 20-6, that the Alamedans were able to coast to their easy victory.

Jimmy Athas drew first blood for the Collegians in the initial period as he lugged the ball 16 yards after taking a reverse from Joe Barbera. Before the conclusion of the half, fullback Arlie Keefer bucked over from the 3 yard stripe, and center Don Bafford chalked up a third TD on a 40 yard jaunt on an intercepted pass. The final City tally was made in the second half on another intercepted pass, this time by Barbera.

CITY—25 SOUTHERN—0

With second and third stringers seeing action during most of the game, the City gridders established themselves as a strong contender for MSA championship honors by beating Southern High, 25-0.

The Collegian attack started to roll the first time they got possession of the ball with Joe Barbera registering the TD on a fake reverse good for 25 yards. The Orange and Black tallied once in every period to easily illustrate their overwhelming superiority. The scoring was paced by Arlie Keefer with seven points to his credit, while Barbera, Jimmy Athas, and Bill Shores each registered once.

HORACE SCOTT—13 CITY—7

Another non-conference game was the occasion as the hard fighting Collegians suffered their first defeat of the season to Horace Scott High, 13-7.

The host team tallied once in the second quarter and repeated in the third stanza to take a 13-0 lead. A successful Joe Barbera-Saul Barnett aerial late in the third period enabled the Collegians to avert a shut out. The fighting Alamedan line, paced by Shel Beerman, Don Bafford, Joe Kelly, and Tom Lowe, once again turned in a brilliant performance for Coach Helm's forces. An injury to tackle Art Schuster was a severe blow to the men of the Alameda for it forced Art out of the line-up for the rest of the season.

PATTERSON—6 CITY—0

Following a pattern similar to the previous season's race, City and Patterson entered their annual classic as the two leading contenders for MSA honors, and, as in the previous game, the Clippers came out on top.

In this year's contest, the Collegians made their poorest showing of the year, and the Pat's slim 6-0 victory margin doesn't begin to tell the story. It was once again the strong, inspired Orange and Black forward wall that kept the Collegians in the game, but on the offense the City forces never could get rolling. All-Maryland Dick Traviglione scored the game's lone tally when he went over from the one yard line mid-way through the first period.

CITY—19 MT. ST. JOE—13

Playing an inspired brand of ball in the second half, the City gridders fought back to beat a strong Mt. St. Joe team, 19-13, for their second MSA triumph of the year.

Trailing, 13-6, at the end of the half, the Orange and Black eleven tallied twice in the third period and attained possession of the ball throughout most of the fourth to capture the victory. Passing was the Collegians main offensive weapon throughout the contest as Joe Barbera threw touchdown heaves to Joe Kelly and Tom Lowe, and set up the other TD on a beautiful 35 yard heave to Kelly. Bernie Olsen was the main Gael threat, and it was primarily due to his superb running that the Gaels got off to their fast lead.

GRANBY HIGH—15 CITY—6

In their final away appearance of the year, the grid-ders could do no better than drop a close 15-6 decision to the power laden Granby High Comets of Norfolk, Virginia.

Although not quite as powerful as the previous year, when they laced the Collegians 33-13, the Comets still fielded a powerful, experienced eleven. It was not until late in the third period, when they trailed 9-0, that the Collegians were able to crash the scoring column. Another Granby six pointer early in the final quarter, however, once again put the game out of the reach of Coach Helm's charges. Lineman Dan Marcus, Saul Barnett, and Don Bafford once against turned in brilliant performances for the City eleven.

CITY—33 FOREST PARK—0

Once again turning on the heat in the second half, the Orange and Black scored twice in each of the last two periods as they completely routed Forest Park, 33-0.

With their two fullbacks, Arlie Keefer and Nick Rizzi, leading the way with two touchdowns apiece, the Collegian first and second stringers moved down the field almost at will in chalking up their third conference win of the season. Every member of the City squad saw action, as both the reserves and first stringers proved to be too much for the fighting, but hopelessly outclassed, Foresters.

First and ten to go

CITY—38 WASHINGTON AND LEE—6

Piling up the highest number of points any City College eleven has scored in recent years, the Varsity gridders out-did even their Forest Park performance as they scored a 38-6 victory over Washington and Lee in a contest dedicated to the Dr. Philip H. Edwards War Memorial Fund.

Walking off the field at half time with a comfortable 13-0 lead, the Collegians "turned on the heat" in the second half to completely avenge the 27-0 licking they had received from the Virginians the previous year. Arlie Keefer paced the scoring with 13 points while Bob Kershaw, Joe Barbera, Joe Kelly, and Jerry Kandel each registered once. Scat-back Jim Athas and his able understudy, Harry Shaffer, played their usual fine game in the backfield.

City 7

As a climax to one of their finest seasons in a number of years, the Orange and Black gridders turned back a courageous, but outplayed Poly eleven in the annual Thanksgiving Day clash, before 23,000 spectators.

Going into the game a one touchdown favorite, the Collegians started off slowly, and for the first eight minutes of the game the two lines were locked in a terrific struggle. However, before the first period ended, Jack Lay, flashy Poly scatback, gathered in a Joe Barbera punt on his seven yard line, cut to the sidelines, picked up blockers, and scampered 93 yards for the first tally.

The next play, although unknown at the time, was the one which decided the game. George Howard, Tech quarterback, went back to add the point after touchdown, but, rushed by the City line, his placekick went off to the side, leaving the score 6-0.

From here the Alamedans took up the offensive and started to roll down the field. The Tech line stiffened and stymied the Collegian's attack momentarily, but the next time City got its hands on the ball, the local forces went all the way with Jimmy Athas and Arlie Keefer, the eventual touchdown maker, picking up most of the ground. That left the game in the hands of Willard Leech, sophomore end, who came in to boot the extra point. Leech came through in fine fashion by putting the ball right through the uprights, thus giving the Collegians their 7-6 victory margin.

Soccer

The Varsity soccer team won only one game and tied one throughout the entire season, but they were always a scrapping, fighting team in all league play.

One that Poly didn't get

When they met Polytechnic, the Orange and Black had only one win to their credit; and with Poly fighting for the championship of the league, the Collegians were decided underdogs. The Engineers jumped off to a quick lead and it seemed as the half ended that the Orange and Black would never be able to catch their powerful arch-rivals. But the determined Collegian bootmen continued to bear down and sparked by a last quarter rally the game ended in a 3-3 tie. A tie that knocked Poly out of the running for MSA honors.

One of the bright spots on the team was little Jimmy Farrier, later made captain, who scored all of City's goals in the Poly encounter. Little Jimmy's small stature was more than made up for by his excellent play. He was high scorer for the team throughout the year, a feat which helped to earn for him a birth on the first-string All-Maryland team.

Goalie Joe Ritter played an outstanding game throughout the year. In front of Ritter at the fullback posts were two capable, experienced booters, Martin Renes and Chuck Farrar. Their play was of a fine calibre.

Other fine performances were turned in by Herb Loiseaux, Dave Sandler, Andy Bountercourt, Arnold Kaufman, Wilt Anderson, Jim Gede, Steve Cotsoradis, Bert Greenstein, Bernie Thomas, and Henry Himpler.

Cross Country

Three victories out of five dual meets and a third place finish in the Maryland Scholastics was the record turned in by the Collegian Varsity cross country team.

One-sided triumphs over Mt. St. Joe and Catonsville helped to successfully inaugurate the Collegian campaign. Chris Varel-lan, Bob Eldredge, and Bob Foresman, turned in winning performances as they paced the Collegians to 23-37 and 15-41 margins of victory.

In their only close dual-meet decision of the year, the Collegians suffered their first defeat of the year to Patterson by a 25-30 score. George Rodney, Pat flash, and Chris Varellan battled all the way for the winning time with the Clipper representative finally coming out on top. Varellan, Eldredge, and Elmer Dunn paced Coach Vansant's harriers to an easy victory over Forest Park, but the Collegians failed to match the power of a strong Poly team as they absorbed their second defeat in their final league meet.

With their top performer, Varellan, ineligible to compete in the MSA competition, the City endurance runners could gain no better than a third place position behind the two teams that also beat them in dual-meet play, Poly and Patterson. Eldredge and Dunn led the City representatives as they finished in 4th and 9th place, respectively.

Other leading members of this year's team were Al Miles, Don Erlbeck, Garey Kostens, and Irvin Hoffman.

Basketball

Following a pattern similar to the one set in the '46-'47 basketball campaign, the Collegian courtmen started off like world-beaters, but then met their Waterloo in the second half of the campaign.

After opening their slate by trouncing the two leaders of the private school loop, St. Paul's and Loyola, the Collegians went into their opening league struggle against Southern co-favored with Patterson Park for the public school diadem.

The Bulldogs, however, proved more potent than had been expected and the Alamedans came out on-top only after a furious struggle in which they came from ten points behind in the closing minutes. The Orange and Black followed up this win with victories over Forest Park and Vocational to enter their all-important test with the Clippers tied with them for first place.

Then the "rains came." Within two days, Al Goodman and Don Walsh, pace setters of the team, were lost from the squad; Goodman because of playing for an outside team and Walsh due to scholastic difficulties. The Collegians, minus their two stars, were no match for Mel Baldwin and Company, and the one-sided Clipper victory was inevitable.

In the final game of the first round the City five bowed to Poly as Hal Heyison brought his MSA career to a close in a blaze of glory as he tallied 23 points, including 15 straight from the foul line.

The rest of the season was just the aftermath as far as the Alamedans were concerned. They won two of their final five league tests to wind up in a third place tie with Southern. Bernie Rudo, a tower of strength all season long, due to his steady, smooth play, Jerry Schuster, Morty Cohen, Nolan Rogers, Willard Leech, and Al McPherson paced the offensive department in the second half of the campaign.

Talking it over

Swimming

The only City College team to capture an MSA championship during the 1947-'48 season, the Varsity swimmers came through with top honors for the fourth straight year.

The Collegian natators had a rather easy time winning the crown as they splashed to double victories over each of their three league opponents: Poly, Loyola, and Mt. St. Joe.

In the final local meet of the year, the MSA at City, the Alamedan splashers once again showed their superiority by capturing two individual races and the 220 yard freestyle relay. Garnering the individual titles were Jimmy Farrier in the diving event and Herm Heyn in the 220 yard freestyle.

Both Farrier and Heyn nosed out their own teammates in winning their trophies, the former beating Earl Schmidt, while Heyn edged out Captain Howard Greenebaum.

The championship Orange and Black relay team was composed of Curtis McCoy, John Heyn, Howard Greenebaum, and Ted Dawes. All of the latter quartet were keen competitors throughout the year, Dawes finishing second in the 40 yard freestyle with McCoy one place further back.

The Marxmen also had two strong competitors in the backstroke event, Freddy Goodman and Otts Greenbaum. In the MSA finals these two finished second and third, respectively.

The breaststroke proved the weakest link in the Collegian team and the best they could do in the scholastics was Danny Glick's third place.

The only setbacks the swimmers suffered during the campaign were both to York High. In the final meet of the year, the locals took a third place in the Eastern Interscholastics at Trenton, New Jersey.

Wrestling

Although five Collegians were sent into action in the MSA tournament at Homewood, the Orange and Black grapplers failed to gain a single point in the battle for tourney honors.

*Coach
Charlie Hirschauer*

The best performance turned in by any of the Citymen during the year was that of Johnny Hanges, 105 pound grappler, who conquered six of his seven dual-meet opponents. However, even Johnny went sour in the MSA as he bowed out of competition in the second round.

Another mainstay of the team throughout the year was Al Gordon, Collegian representative in the 155 pound division. Gordon showed a winning slate of five and two in dual-meets, including an upset win over Poly's Tony Funari; but he also fell in the early stages of the MSA.

Larry Saiontz, 128; Bill Agee, 145; and Don Bafford, 175; also competed in the Scholastics, but none could get past their first round opponents.

Other groaners who competed through the campaign, although not entered in the tournament, were Dick Manson, 115; George Canaras, 121; John Agee, 136; Eddie Woelper, 165; and Sid Goldin and Harry Dubick, unlimited.

In dual meets the Alamedans bested Edison and St. Joe and lost to Patterson, McDonogh, Southern and Poly. The most thrilling meet of the year was the one with the Gaels when Sid Goldin wrestled the Josephite heavyweight representative to a draw in the final bout to give City a 16½ to 13½ victory.

Fencing

A new, inexperienced coach and even greener playing material proved too much of a handicap for the City Varsity fencers as they finished last in the three team MSA loop. The Collegians went through their four-meet season without a single team victory as they were whipped in home and home series with both champion Patterson Park and the runner-up Engineer trio.

All of the Collegian's matches throughout the year were close, as they twice lost to Patterson and Poly by scores of 6-3 and 5-4 in their respective meets.

Number one man on the Alamedan eight man squad was Captain Alvin Dann, the only foiler to turn in a better than .500 record. Dann won six matches while losing only three during the year and included among his victims was Joe Nemethy, the season's top scholastic foiler. Nemethy had gone to the post eight times with out defeat prior to his second meeting with Dann, but in that match the Pat ace came away on the short end of a 5-4 count.

Teaming with Dann as the starting City trio were Bob Tarr and Don Kirby. Other members of the squad were John Suckling, Alex Basso, Alan Levy, Garey Kostens, and Earl Shelkopf.

Planning new strategy

The jayvee squad, which like the Varsity was coached by Nat Kantor, turned in a slightly better record during its loop competition. A second place finish in the three-team league was the fate of the Alamedan second string foilers.

With each of this year's leading performers, as well as the majority of reserve strength, departing from the MSA athletic scene, BCC fencing will welcome new aspirants to the foil sport, come fall of '49.

Bowling

Compiling an 18 game win streak at the beginning of their bowling campaign, the Collegian "A" keglers seemed destined to capture their third straight title. Once their streak was broken, however, the team's record started to slip and they wound up in a second place tie with Calvert Hall in the final loop standings.

Monty Wolf and Saul Marks paced the team throughout the season as they compiled close to 115 over-all averages. Captain Larry Ingham, Bill Paul, Leroy Shear, and Paul Naden also performed creditably for the Collegian team.

The "B" squad finished in the eighth spot in the 14-team league. Len Scheer, Milt Caplan, Alex Vangas, Maurice Caplan, Dave Lewis and Howie Christie constituted the second string aggregation.

Let's take a look at the record

A strike in the making?

J. V. Sports

Football

Although they were unable to crash into the win column for the first three-fourths of their season, the jayvee gridmen rose to inspired heights as they trimmed Poly, 12-0, in their campaign finale. One-sided defeats to Patterson and Forest Park and a 6-6 tie with Southern preceeded their clash with the arch-rivals.

Soccer

Scrappy but inexperienced was the fate of the City jayvee soccer aggregation. After opening their season with a 2-0 victory over Calvert Hall, the team failed to register another loop victory throughout its short schedule.

Swimming

Following in the footsteps of the Varsity, the jayvee swimming team was the only City squad to capture an MSA championship. Not only did the little Marxmen easily defeat Loyola and Poly in dual meet competition and the scholaastic, but also took one of the two meets with the powerful York High second stringers.

Lacrosse

Six wins and three defeats was the record made by the City jayvee stickmen. This fairly successful record enabled the squad to finish in third place in the final loop standings. The trio of setbacks came at the hands of Gilman, St. Paul, and Boys' Latin.

Costello wins race to first

"Practice makes perfect"

Baseball

Although a strong, scrappy team, a second place position in the final loop standings was the fate of Coach Cecil Norris's Varsity baseball nine.

Single defeats at the hands of Poly, Southern, and Patterson were the team's only setbacks throughout their 9-game loop schedule. In the win column, the Collegian nine beat Forest Park in two thrilling contests; avenged their earlier season defeat to Southern by soundly whipping the Bulldogs later in the season, and swept to two one-sided victories over Vocational.

Two Eddies, Satterfield and Woelper, combined to give the team a strong first string battery, which was capably reinforced by Al McPherson and Lefty Costello from the mound. Boosty Schuster, Charlie Bimsteffer, Wesley West, and Arlie Keefer afforded the team a tight inner defense with Joe Gamberdell and Chuck Gladdin also ready and anxious for duty. Stu Macht, Phil Cohen, Bill Winegard, and Satterfield, when he wasn't toeing the rubber, patrolled the outfield and offered potent batting power to the Collegian batting order.

Two Collegian performers, Satterfield and Macht, were elected to the All Star team at the end of the season, the former receiving the starting center field berth. This team, composed of the leading players of the various public and private school teams, whipped the championship Poly nine to wind-up the '48 baseball season.

Lacrosse

The return of pre-war coach Jerry Denaburg and a team that was practically intact for the third straight year offered high hopes for Collegian lacrosse fans as the '48 season got under way. Mt. St. Joe, Boys' Latin and Southern were early victims of the Collegian's rugged defense and potent attack. However, in their final contests of the year, the local stickmen dropped close decisions to Gilman and McDonogh, and finished the season in third place.

Goal tender Don Bafford performed in fine style all year, and his outstanding play was awarded by his selection to the All-State ten. A trio of rugged, experienced defensemen, Joe Pokorny, Frank Potterfield, and Harry Dubick presented Collegian opponents with a fighting challenge that only superior depth was able to overcome. On the mid-field line the Collegians were supplied with the necessary speed of such familiar 'crossers as Harry Shaffer, Vern Mules and Paul Louiseaux. High-point getters for the ten were attack men Bernie Rudo, another first string All-Maryland selection, Ted McDonnell and Bunky Swerdloff.

Reserve power, so necessary to the smooth functioning of a lacrosse squad, was offered by George Abeshouse, Jack Hundertmark, Duke Johnson, Howard Greenebaum, Buddy Kaufman, Jerry Behrend, Bob Lipsitz, Fred Goodman, Bill Agee, and Emil Budnitz.

Track

Morty Cohen captured three first places and Chris Varellan took top honors in the half mile event as the City cindermen completed a successful season by finishing second to Mt. St. Joe in the Maryland Scholastics.

In dual meet competition the Orange and Black bowed only to Patterson Park while chalking up victories over St. Joe, Poly, Forest Park, and McDonogh. The team made creditable showings in the C Meet in Washington; the University of Maryland Invitation Meet; and the Loyola Invitation Meet, where Cohen received the Mayor Tommy D'Alessandro Trophy for being the outstanding performer.

In the MSA, held at Homewood, the Collegians lead throughout the day until the next to the last race, the mile relay. Handicapped by the absence of their number one quarter miler, Al Eisner, the Collegians could garner no better than two points for a fourth place finish while the Gaels romped home in first to add ten points to their score and pave the way for their 41-35 triumph.

Cohen was without a doubt the outstanding individual star of the day as he captured the low hurdles, high hurdles, and running broad jump to run to 111 out of a possible 125 his point output for the season. The latter victory was the most dramatic of the afternoon as he had to go all the way down to his final jump before he eclipsed the mark of twenty-one feet, eight inches set by Frank Exodus of Patterson. In all three of his winning efforts the City ace was just fractions off of all-time MSA records.

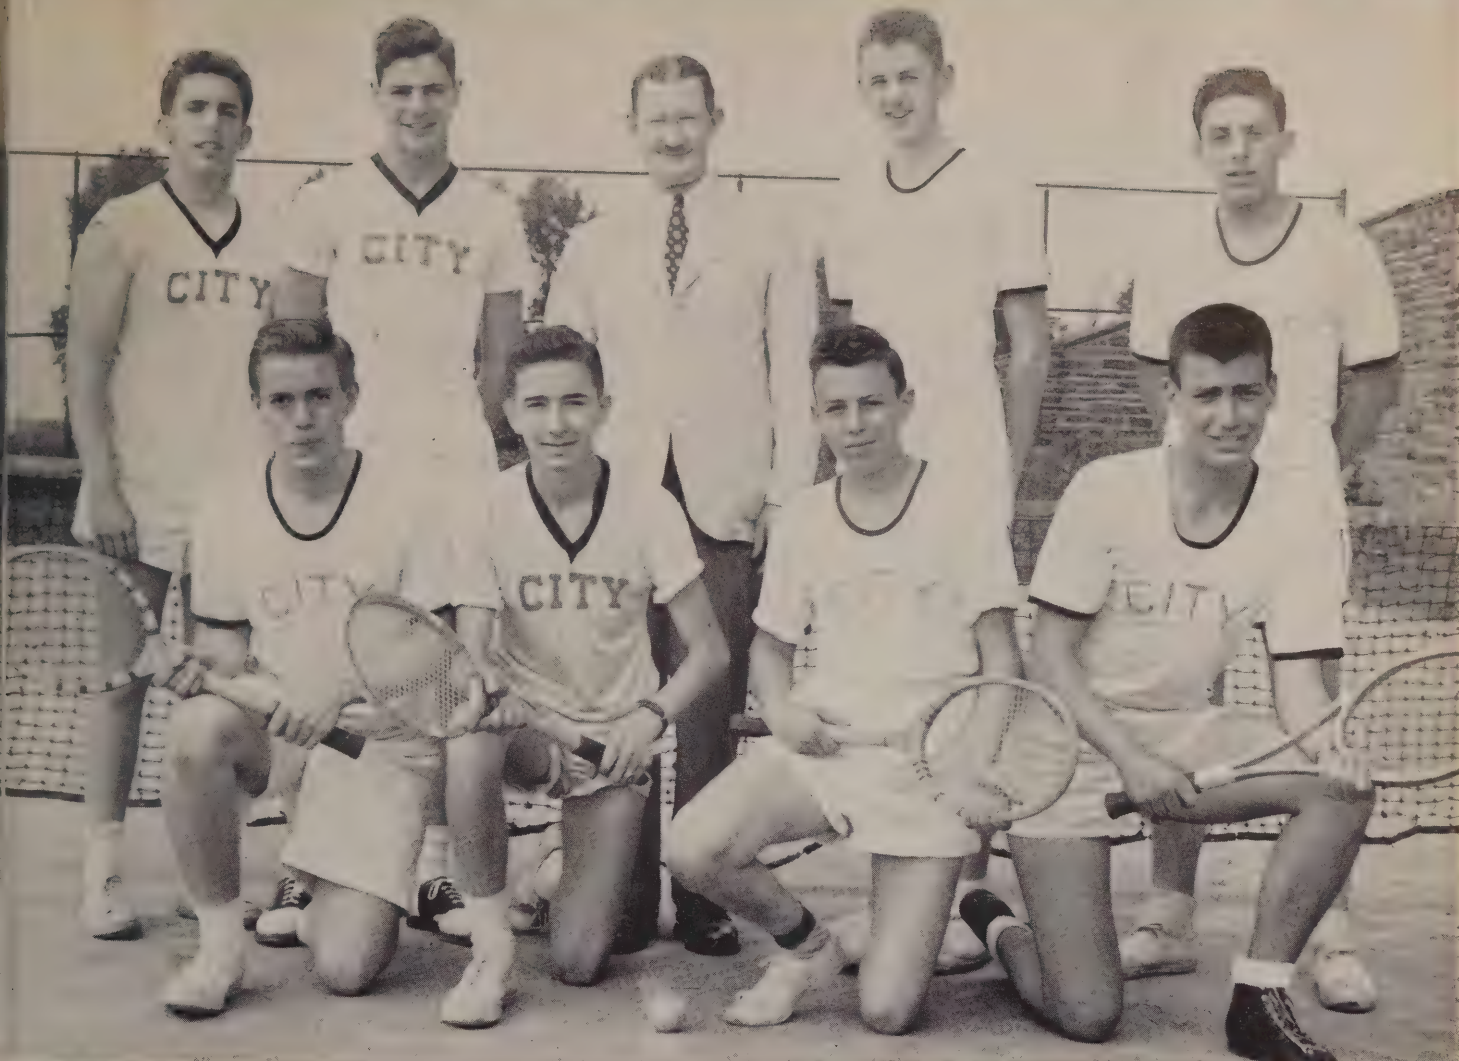

Varellan, likewise just missed setting a new MSA standard as he fell three-tenths of a second short in the 880. Other point-getters for City were Angelo Santa Maria, who took a third in the 100 and a second in the 220; Tom Everett, with third places in the shotput and discus; and Willard Leech, who took second in the pole-vault and third in the high jump.

Tennis

Failing to capture the MSA championship for the first time in the past four years, the Varsity tennis team finished the season with a 7-1 loop record and second place in the league standings.

A 4-3 defeat at the hands of Poly mid-way through the season cost the netmen title honors. One-sided victories over Mt. St. Joe and Gilman preceded their match with the Engineers. Still having a strong chance to tie or even capture the loop crown, the netmen were not to be denied throughout the remainder of their season as they triumphed over Calvert Hall, Forest Park, Loyola, Patterson Park, and McDonogh. The Techmen, however, kept their unbeaten record intact, and thus Coach Emenheiser's racquetters were forced to settle for runner-up honors.

Although failing to have a singles player go undefeated, the Collegians boasted a powerful line-up. Benson Offit, in the number one singles spot, and Harry Wilson, number two, afforded the team two experienced netmen at the top of the ladder. Loose, aggressive Jock Lane turned in a fine season in the number three slot, as did Captain Howard Wagner and Sophomore Stan Steinberg in the remaining singles posts.

Frank Askin and Al Abramson were a capable doubles combination and they captured each of the three matches they played together. Abe Adler, Stan Slusky, and Jerry Stempler, three netmen whom Coach Emenheiser will figure on prominently for next year, rounded out the squad.

The "thriller" of the year for the runner-up Alamedan squad came when the team met Loyola High. Both teams had previously bowed by similar 4-3 scores to Poly, and thus a win was a "must" for the championship chances of both squads. Offit and Wagner turned in timely victories in the singles play, but with the remaining Alamedan representatives bowing in close matches, the locals entered the doubles play needing both victories. Offit and Wagner combined talents for one of the victories and with Lane and Wilson, rebounding from their singles defeats, triumphing in the other doubles play, the Collegians turned in a well-earned 4-3 victory.

"I'LL SHOW 'EM"

I have my diploma. I am a "City" enthusiast. I love the institution, and I am familiar with its traditions. Like the United States and its Constitution, we, at "City", have had our traditions.

Young men of all creeds, faiths and ideals have lived together for 4 years, and they have been able to respect each other. On the field of sports, we have roughed it up, shaken hands, and parted friends. In our educational courses, we have striven hard to make the best record we could. I have made the grade, and now I am a graduate.

As I see it, I have a further obligation now. I must pay City College back for its generosity in giving me this broad education. Broader than mere books, it has allowed me to know and study people. I am going to repay it by being a good citizen, and I now realize my greatest privilege on earth is to be of service to mankind. I am the most fortunate youngster in the World for I live in America—The Land of Freedom—and I have a basic education that will place me in line to get what I want—and I do want success in my field of endeavor. It's fine to feel strong physically, mentally, and spiritually. I shall gain all my honors honestly and in a sportsmanlike manner that is typical of "City College".

Yes-- I have deep faith in the future. My head is high; my goals are high, for I have the traditions of "City" with me. My classmates will be proud of me -- I'll show 'em!

High School Graduates of '48

Here's Your Future

Graduation need not mean the end of your education. Those of you who choose the U.S. Army or the U.S. Air Force for a career may obtain the equivalent of two years of college credit by signing up for extension or correspondence courses in the United States Armed Forces Institute.

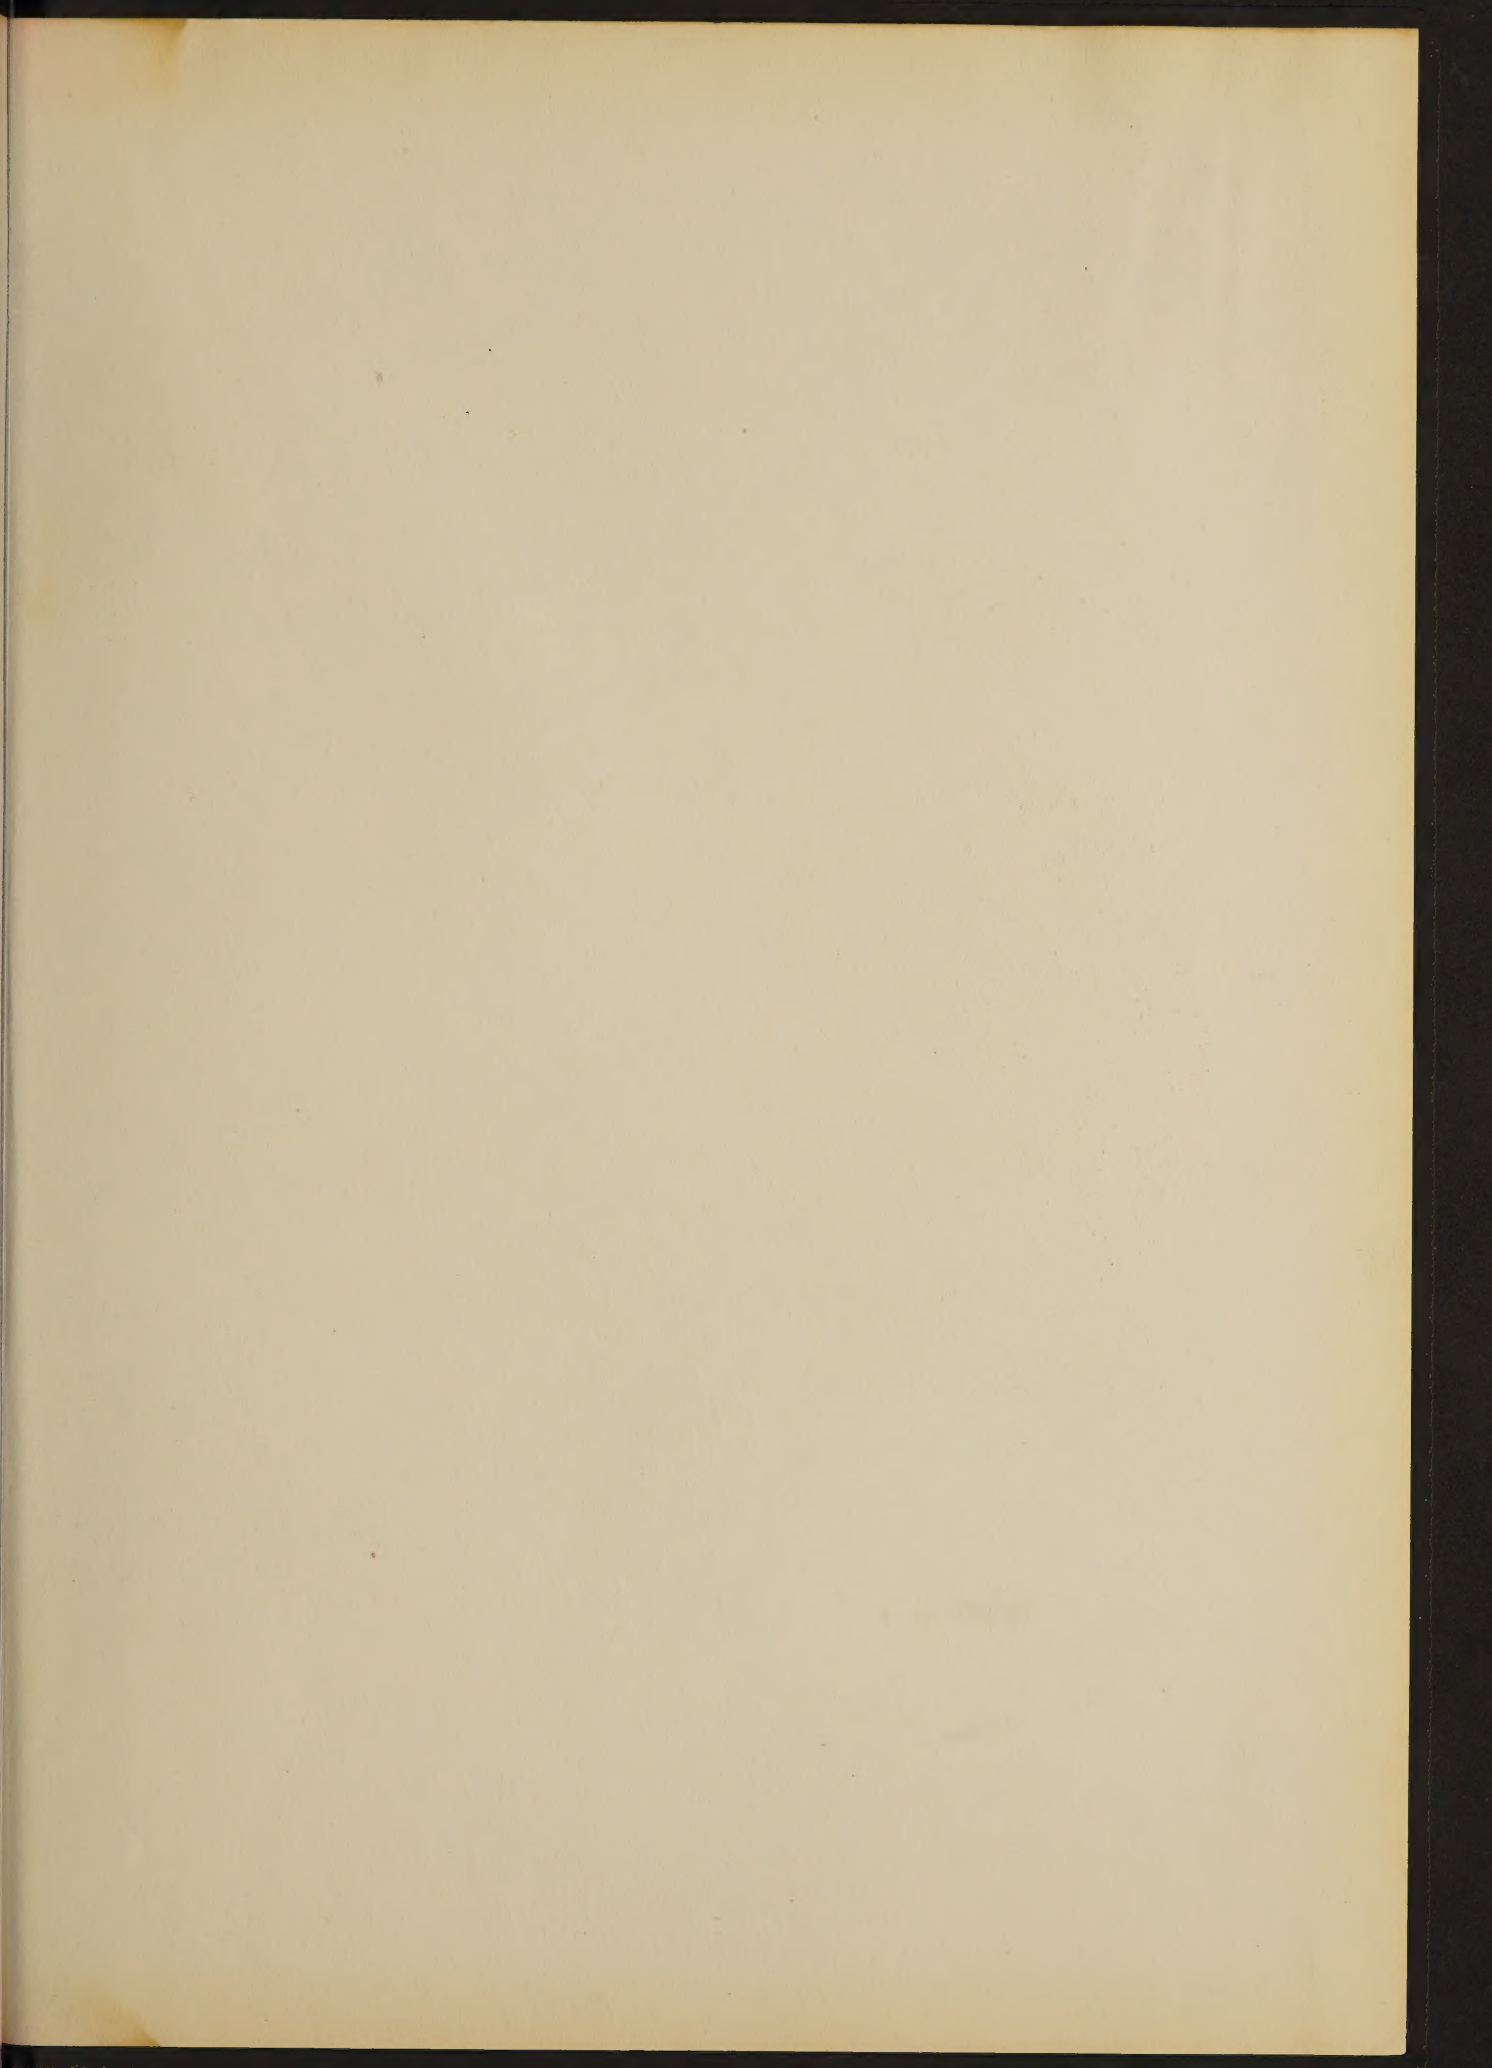

As for the graduate interested in a trade, he will find just what he is looking for in the more than 60 technical schools of the U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force.

What makes this academic and technical schooling so attractive—aside from the knowledge gained—is that it is absolutely free to anyone enlisting. While you continue your education the government pays you a salary higher than many a civilian scale. It also provides a chance to visit and study in foreign countries, while all the time you are becoming eligible for retirement after 20 years.

Before you make your final choice of a career, it would pay you to look into the wonderful opportunities that are available in the U.S. Army or U.S. Air Force.
